

I am writing regarding Sinclair Broadcast's decision to order its affiliates to broadcast a misleading and highly partisan program on John Kerry's service in Vietnam. It is clear that Sinclair is attempting to undermine the democratic process in the days before the presidential election. Sinclair is abusing its privilege to use the public air waves, and its actions are a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

I urge the FCC to strengthen media ownership rules and to act more stringently during the license renewal process. Doing so would be in the best interest of the democratic process.

Sincerely,

Claudio Saunt
